

Extracurricular Clubs Policy

Definition of School Extracurricular Clubs:

School extracurricular clubs are gathering places for students to participate in specific cultural and intellectual activities during their free time. These clubs improve school life by helping students achieve educational and developmental goals, developing their personalities and talents, and promoting citizenship and social responsibility.

Objectives of Extracurricular Clubs

School extracurricular clubs aim to achieve several objectives, including:

- Fostering Citizenship and Ethical Values: developing students' sense of citizenship and reinforcing ethical values.
- Enhancing Teamwork: Promoting the importance of teamwork.
- Talent Development: nurturing students' talents and channeling their energy into creativity and innovation.
- Stimulating Scientific Curiosity: encouraging students to engage in research, inquiry, and discovery.
- Raising Awareness: Educating students about their environment and community issues, involving them in problem-solving, proposal-making, and service projects.
- Volunteering and Initiative: Promoting the idea of volunteering, teamwork, and initiative.
- Building Citizenship and National Identity: strengthening national identity and civic education.
- Personal Development: Enhancing students' personalities and providing practical and scientific experiences to handle life's challenges responsibly and make informed decisions.
- Inclusion: Integrating students with learning difficulties as active participants in decision-making and forming attitudes.

- Reducing Individual Differences: Minimizing individual differences and fostering cooperation among students.
- Parental Involvement: Engaging parents in selecting and implementing projects.
- Responsibility and Decision-Making: Training students to take responsibility and make decisions.
- School-Community Relations: Strengthening the relationship between the school and the community.

Steps for Establishing Extracurricular Clubs

The establishment of extracurricular clubs involves several steps, including:

1. Proposing a name for the club.
2. Drafting the rationale for establishment.
3. Formulating objectives.
4. Presenting the club project to the school administration.
5. Opening a call for volunteers.
6. Holding an initial meeting to establish the club.
7. Preparing an annual record.
8. Conducting meetings under the supervision of a faculty advisor.

Types of RISS Extracurricular Clubs

Extracurricular clubs vary according to their interests and specialties, including:

- Drama
- Journalism
- Speech & Debate
- Storytelling
- Math Club
- Young scientists 3-5
- Jet Science 6-8

- نادي القرآن والتجويد
- نادي ساعة وساعة (إسلامية)
- نادي القصة - والشعر
- نادي الإمسات
- نادي الخط العربي
- نادي التقوية للطلاب الضعاف
- نادي العمل التطوعي الخيري
- ART Club
- Chess Club
- Gymnastics
- Taekwondo Club
- Badminton
- RISS-MUN
- Application of Artificial Intelligence
- Red Crescent
- First Aid Club
- Students Council Club
- Gifted & Talented Club
- Remedial Class

Information Technology and Technology Club

- Environmental Activities: utilizing school cooperation days for cleaning, gardening, and tree planting, and educating students about environmental care through practical programs.
- Cultural Activities: Organizing cultural competitions and local heritage exhibitions.

Extracurricular clubs are among the most important school activities that contribute to enhancing school life. They enable students to develop their skills and abilities, refine their talents, and build a well-rounded personality, ultimately shaping responsible and engaged citizens.